Restriction

Applicant's election to the claims in Group I is acknowledged. However, in light of the addition of new claims and after further consideration of the prior claims, additional restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-4, 8-19, 32-38 and 41, drawn to an article.

Group II, claim(s) 27-28, drawn to an article.

Group III, claim(s) 40, 42-45, drawn to an article.

Group IV, claim(s) 46-49 and 53, drawn to a method.

Group V, claim(s) 50-52, drawn to a method.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The article of Group I is drawn to a metallic glass laminate having a metallic glass coating having a specific supercooled liquid temperature range and porosity. The other groups lack the same corresponding technical feature as Group II is drawn to a die-press formed article, Group III is drawn to a solder-corrosion resistant member having no particular supercooled liquid temperature range or porosity and Group V is drawn to a method of die-pressing an article. Although Group IV recites a method of forming the article of Group I, the claimed metallic glass laminate could be formed by an alternate and materially different method and thus does not share the same corresponding technical feature of thermally spraying under the conditions described in the method of Group IV.

The article of Group II is drawn to a die-press formed article which does not have a similar corresponding special technical feature with any of groups I, III and IV. With respect to Group V, the article of Group II could be formed by another method such as by die pressing using processing parameters which do not employ a supercooled die such as required by the special technical feature of Group V.

The article of Group III is drawn to a solder-corrosion resistant member having an contact surface formed of a metallic glass coating layer of a metallic phase which does not have a similar corresponding special technical feature with any of Groups I and IV which form an metallic glass having a specific supercooled temperature range and porosity or Groups II and V which are drawn to die press formed articles and methods.

The method of Group IV is drawn to a method for forming a metallic glass laminate by thermally spraying but does not have a similar corresponding special technical feature with Groups I-III for the reasons set forth above and Group V which is drawn to a method of die-pressing the metallic glass laminate.

The method of Group V is drawn to a method of die pressing a metallic glass laminate and does not have a similar corresponding special technical feature with Groups I-IV for the reasoning set forth above.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
